SUMMARY

Jimmy is struggling with academic performance in his chemistry course, feeling like he's falling behind and worried about failing the major.

KEY CONCERNS

- Low academic performance in chemistry, especially on exams
- Lack of understanding of material in previous course, partial credit
- Feeling like a failure in chemistry and uncertainty about future coursework
- Worry about failing the major

ACTION PLAN

- Recommend meeting with course tutor to discuss academic adjustment and potential credit recovery
- Discuss strategies to improve grades, including breaking down complex concepts
- Encourage journaling or tutor-supported learning activities to build understanding
- Refer to academic counseling service for long-term support

FOLLOW UP PLAN

- After meeting, follow up with tutor to review grading history and adjusted expectations
- Coordinate with academic advisor to discuss major rethinking
- Recommend attendance at tutoring sessions or academic support groups
- Encourage writing and speaking about successes and progress
