SUMMARY

Ryan is struggling to engage with his religious studies coursework and is not connecting with the content or meaning behind his academic work.

KEY CONCERNS

- Difficulty understanding the content of his religious studies course
- Lack of engagement or meaningful connection with the issues being studied
- Feeling lost in the academic context
- Need for academic guidance or exploration of faith-informed perspectives

ACTION PLAN

- Help Ryan refine his academic reading and critical thinking skills in religious studies
- Suggest attending a religious studies seminar or discussion group to explore the issues in a more nuanced way
- Encourage Ryan to engage with faith-informed scholars or organizations to better understand the issues, and consider adding a personal or political focus
- Recommend attending academic workshops on interfaith dialogue or religious pluralism

FOLLOW UP PLAN

- Schedule a check-in later this semester to monitor progress and explore how to integrate faith more meaningfully in academic work
- Offer to provide weekly academic coaching sessions on religious studies or interdisciplinary topics
- Encourage Ryan to apply for a religious studies major or minor if he's interested in exploring his major more deeply
