SUMMARY

Student is struggling with academic integrity and academic stability in art major.

KEY CONCERNS

- Low academic performance in art classes last semester
- Feeling unstable as an art major and questioning if she should still major
- Involvement in academic-focused arts community
- Difficulty managing academic work in art courses

ACTION PLAN

- Help student understand the academic expectations for art majors and the importance of grades
- Introduce student to academic counseling service for art students
- Discuss the artistic and academic values that make up the art major, and how to balance artistic expression with academic success
- Encourage student involvement in academic support events for art students

FOLLOW UP PLAN

- Schedule a check-in session in the spring to assess academic stability
- Offer to meet regularly to review academic progress and workload management
- Encourage student to consider a different major if academic stability is a concern
- Refer student to potential art-related internships or independent study opportunities
