SUMMARY

Brian is experiencing academic stress and is uncertain about his future in biology and beyond. He is interested in career options but needs guidance on graduation pathways.

KEY CONCERNS

- Late grades in biology class, still trying to understand what went wrong
- Slipping grades may indicate academic weakness, but uncertainty about graduation and career options
- Interest in science-related job opportunities but lack of clarity on fit
- Feeling overwhelmed by academic pressure and not sure if next steps should be grad school or career

ACTION PLAN

- Help identify potential next steps based on recent grades and discuss if a different course or assignment would improve
- Discuss career options in biology and related fields with an emphasis on graduate school
- Introduce him to potential internships or entry-level jobs in the field
- Refer him to student success center for academic support
