SUMMARY

Max is struggling with the academic demands of his history major and uncertainty about his fit and career potential.

KEY CONCERNS

- Largely unstructured course content with dense readings and assignments
- Diffusion of interest in traditional history or historical analysis
- Lack of academic fit in the history major, uncertainty about fit in program or career options
- Worry about first-year academic stress and lack of support (e.g. TA or peer mentoring)

ACTION PLAN

- Explain the academic structure of the history major and the range of topics covered
- Introduce career options in history (museum curator, heritage tourism, archives work, etc.)
- Provide introductory history courses with clear grading and feedback options
- Refer Max to tutoring or peer mentoring in the history program for individualized support
- Consider enrollment in a different history course or major if academic fit improves
