SUMMARY

Melissa is concerned about finding environmental policy or environmental justice jobs after graduation, even though her major is Earth & Environmental Geosciences.

KEY CONCERNS

- Uncertainty about career prospects in environmental policy or environmental science after graduation
- Interest in combining science with policy work
- Worries about being able to transition from a science-heavy major

ACTION PLAN

- Refer Melissa to career services with a focus on environmental policy and environmental justice jobs
- Suggest attending a career fair focused on environmental policy or environmental tech jobs
- Provide referral to Earth Institute at Columbia University and Environmental Leadership Program
- Encourage exploration of hybrid science-policy roles within nonprofit organizations or government agencies

FOLLOW UP PLAN

- Check in after finals week to check if Melissa has made any career decisions
- Encourage follow-up meeting to discuss hybrid science-policy pathways
- Monitor job postings within her favorite science fields and Earth-related industries
