SUMMARY

Andie is uncertain about her academic path and uncertain about her future career options after her political science major.

KEY CONCERNS

- Struggling to fully engage with her academic coursework due to interest in non-traditional career paths
- Feeling like she's falling behind in her major and not fully engaged
- Uncertainty about which academic path (Politics or International Relations) would be best for future career
- Interest in creative or non-traditional career options, but lacking guidance

ACTION PLAN

- Help Andie explore the potential career paths within Political Science, including criminal justice, international relations, and government roles
- Discuss the benefits and drawbacks of majoring in Politics or International Relations, including industry and policy overlap
- Recommend meeting with a career counselor to discuss non-traditional career paths and academic major transitions
- Encourage Andie to brainstorm potential internships or job opportunities in these fields

FOLLOW UP PLAN

- Schedule a follow-up meeting in 2 weeks to check on Andie's career and academic decision-making progress
- Offer to keep track of internship and job opportunities for Andie in her major and non-traditional fields
- Encourage Andie to consider majoring in a different academic discipline if she's still unsure about her career path
