SUMMARY

Ricky is struggling with academic performance in environmental studies, uncertainty about career pathways, and fear of not being ready for college or the real world.

KEY CONCERNS

- Low academic performance, unclear major and course load
- Uncertainty about appropriate career paths in environmental fields
- Feeling unsure of which environmental fields are best suited for his interests
- Worry that he is not ready for college or the real world yet

ACTION PLAN

- Refer Ricky to career services to explore environmental job opportunities and career paths
- Suggest meeting with environmental studies faculty member about interdisciplinary coursework that may interest him
- Discuss the academic regulations for major changes and provide support for graduation criteria
- Encourage Ricky to explore internships or volunteer opportunities in environmental fields to build experience before applying to jobs or graduate programs

FOLLOW UP PLAN

- Schedule a follow-up meeting to review graduation plans and job search strategies
- Evaluate if Ricky should consider major switch to social justice or ecological studies
- Help Ricky create a graduation plan that includes both environmental and non-environmental tracks
