SUMMARY

Kristi is struggling to balance coursework in environmental studies with academic pressure, academic anxiety, and graduation concerns.

KEY CONCERNS

- Enjoying coursework but feeling overwhelmed by scientific content
- Pressure to perform academically in honors program
- Anxiety about graduation and the demands of environmental studies
- Lack of academic management skills and uncertainty about ability to succeed in coursework

ACTION PLAN

- Help Kristi with understanding the scientific concepts in environmental studies courses
- Introduce strategies for note-taking and organization in environmental studies
- Encourage grading strategies for honors students (e.g., weighting grades based on assigned readings)
- Recommend mindfulness and time management workshops for environmental studies students

FOLLOW UP PLAN

- Check in before finals week in spring 2021
- Offer academic coaching sessions after finals period
- Encourage graduation-related reflection work and how to balance priorities
